

Cook Caregiver OF THE MONTH

May's honorary Cook Caregiver of the Month is...

Vicki Wilson

Vicki Wilson recently returned to the United States from Costa Rica to provide physical care and assistance for her elderly mother. It was a challenging decision for Vicki who has been actively involved in a Prison Ministry for men for the past 16 years. Many lives have been transformed through this ministry, and Vicki has been able to encourage and assist in raising up leaders who in turn will create more leaders.

Vicki's commitment to become a caregiver for her mother was motivated by a spirit of love and respect. Even though there have been many adjustments, she is grateful for this special time with her mother and equally appreciative of the time she is able to spend with extended family.

Terry Hargrave, author of Loving Your Parents When They Can No Longer Love You, helped Vicki understand that caregiving is indeed a spiritual journey, one that assists caregivers in carrying on with the help of God's grace and guidance. This is a priceless gift given to those who are willing to sacrificially be there for others.
